NEW AUBURN FFA ALUMNI CELEBRATION EVENT

New Auburn High School FFA Alumni recently sponsored a celebration event at The Frog and the Fly east of New Auburn. Those in attendance enjoyed a delicious meal and then proceeded to hear presentations from New Auburn FFA members who have participated in various activities and those who had attended the 89th National FFA Convention in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Mason Kollwitz commented on his opportunity in attending The World Food Prize's Global Youth Institute in Des Moines, Iowa and how impressive the experience was. Mason is a senior and will be attending the University of Wisconsin-River Falls.

Domic Johnson, freshman FFA member, provided an overview of his experience at the convention. During his presentation Domic shared a comment from one of the convention speakers stating, "Don't be disappointed when all of your work seems to be for nothing, be positive and happy with the fact that everything you did made you not only better as an individual but also smarter." Domic also commented on how much he enjoyed meeting new people and participating in the various tours.

Dalton Lauterbach, freshman FFA member, shared his first impressions of attending the 2016 National FFA Convention. Dalton commented that attending the convention was "one of the best experiences I have had in my lifetime." He also expressed appreciation to the New Auburn FFA Alumni for supporting the New Auburn FFA Chapter.

Mikayla Boehm, eighth grade student, was awarded the Section I State Junior High FFA Essay plaque. She was recognized as one of the top ten essays in the state for her essay centered on the FFA theme, Amplify.

Tina Gordon, FFA member and currently a junior in high school, provided a presentation reflective of her experience at the 2016 National FFA Convention. Tina shared points made by the retiring address of Nick Baker who served as the 2015-16 National Secretary from Tennessee. Nick is originally from Cookeville, Tennessee and upon graduation from college plans to serve in the United States military and eventually work with agriculture policy centered on food security.

Tina pointed out some of Nick's key points during his retiring address including "Whoever you are – you should be all you, all of the time and whoever you are – you are the one and only you that ever has been or ever will be." Overall, emphasizing the importance of being content with our individual uniqueness and being ourselves is being authentic.

Zachary Fedie presented the National FFA Agriscience Fair project, on behalf of his team which included Peyton Trowbridge, on "Engineering a Robot for Cultivation in a Row Crop." Hazel Cody and Violet Hyke presented their National FFA Agriscience Fair project titled, "Melted Snow Quality – Within Their Environment". McKenzie Frank provided a presentation on her agriscience project, "Green Roofs & Stormwater Mitigation." All three competing projects earned a rating of national silver. Domic Johnson's project titled, Analyzing Plastic Wrap to Lessen Food Spillage, earned a national bronze rating after the required national pre-screen reviews.

Mikayla Boehm was named sectional winner at the state level in the Junior High FFA Essay contest. She was presented with an award plaque for this achievement. Mikayla had written an essay centered on the National FFA theme titled Amplify.

During the evening's celebration, Cody Simmons commented on the New Auburn FFA Chapter being recognized for being awarded a Local Program Success Grant for their program: "New Auburn FFA Heartwalk – 10th Anniversary." Cody Simmons and Tina Gordon accepted this recognition, on behalf of the chapter, during the National FFA Alumni Association's national session.

Cody Simmons, who also serves as president of the New Auburn FFA Chapter, highlighted the 2017 New Auburn FFA Heartwalk. Scheduled date for the heartwalk is July 22nd, 2017 which will be held at the New Auburn Park Pavilion. Cody designed this year's 2017 New Auburn FFA Heartwalk Tee-Shirts with the theme, Making a World of Difference...One Beat at a Time." It is the chapter's goal to have "One Hundred at the Heart" celebrating the ten years that the New Auburn FFA Chapter has been holding their heartwalk. Cody is currently a senior at New Auburn High School and is planning on attending Northland College in Ashland, WI to become a meteorologist after graduating from high school.

Wendy Lauterbach, FFA Alumni member, who assisted in chaperoning the New Auburn FFA delegation to the National FFA Convention, provided her perspective and shared many positive comments. She encouraged those in attendance to become an FFA Alumni member and that you do not have to be a former FFA member to become a member of the FFA Alumni. She provided each member attending the National FFA Convention, from New Auburn, a hand-made keychain in gratitude for the outstanding behavior exhibited during the convention travels. New Auburn's chapter president, presented Wendy with a gift of appreciation for her assistance with chaperoning, on behalf of the New Auburn FFA chapter members.

New Auburn FFA Chapter's advisor, Brenda J. Scheil, provided those FFA members at the middle school level, who were present, with a certificate and pen. She reminded members to write a great story as they journey through their different FFA experiences and opportunities and to work at discovering their talents and abilities. They were encouraged to share their talents and abilities to help make the world a better place with the spirit of serving others. High school FFA members, that were present, were each given a golden key to serve as a reminder to unlock the doors of opportunity and their own potential, that will assist them in their development of premier leadership, personal growth, and career success.
